In Port,

Mary Boyd, Quickstep, G. W. Chesk. Wenther, Bivers and Business.

The weather yesterday was cool and pleasant. The river is declining at this port, with eight and a just feet to Cairo, and about seven and a field feet thence to St. Louis. There is no change in the channel at Oscoola and Pleasa Point. The same store of water change in the channel at Osceola and change in the channel at Osceola and plum Point. The same stage of water in New York, was added the attraction of the opening exercises of a new trutting coarse association, of which many of the cotton brigade are distinguished of the cotton brigade are distinguished. The City of Vicksburg, for St. Louis, freight. The Pail Allin, from the lower coast, brought 16 bales of cotton and 169 sacks of cotton-seed. The A. J. White, from Napoleon, came in with 42 bales of cotton and 546 sacks of cotton-seed. The James D. Parker, for Cincinnati, cleared with 100 bales of cotton and rags, and a came in the pail of people. The Phil. Allin, for Friars Point, and A. J. White, for Napoleon, both departed with fair trips. Napoleon, both departed with fair trips.

News Drift. The Ciarkaville went to the bank below the elevator yesterday, where she will remain during the hot weather, unless something hot turns up..... Charles Smithers went out as second clerk ou the Phil Allin yesterday....Fiatboat season has passed away. According to Captain Weaver, Plum Point bar is in a worse condition than it in a worse condition than it has ever been Yesterday the Quickstep ran from the point below here to the wharf in twenty minutes..... It is the Belle Memphis running. Both of these steamers move well. As yet, to the wharf in twenty minutes..... It is not decided that the Pat Rogers can beat Memphis has had no river excursion this season, but it is probable the Tennessee press association will ride on the water to-day... The Arlington, from Cincinnati, is expected to-morrow. The Charles Bodmann, for New Orleans, is also expected to-morrow ... The J. W. Mills and Future City, with their barges, are aground at Plum Point. The latter boat played marbles with her barges, and scattered them all over the bar..... A light-draught steamer will take the place of the Quickstep after the next trip of the latter boat..... The common conneil yesterday, on motion of Mr. Barinds, granted the petition of Messrs, Glenn & Vinson, to remove their big red wharfboat to the foot of Jefferson street and remitall fines im-posed for not having removed it. Petions from the captalos of the Great Republic, James D. Parker, Mary Boyd and Belie of Texas, testifying to the usefulness of the wharfooat were read. The board of aldermen referred it to the wharf committee Councilman Barinds yesterday introduced an ordinance to abolish the ten per cent. commission allowed the wharfmaster on collections, and to make his salary two thousand dollars per aunum. The ordinance was tabled.....On petition of Captain Cheek a resolution was adopted by the council to lay a plank sidewalk on Court street from Front street to the levee.

Clippings. According to the Louisville Courier-Journal, a Wabash man offered to trade his boat for a bull a few days ago, but failed to secure the bargain. If he is not a bully man, he might go to New Orleans and trade the craft for an allorleans and trade the craft for an all-gator... The mail-boats between Cin-cinnati and Louisville have no trouble.

News Drift. as we then stated, mainly due to the advices from America of serious damage from overflows in the Mississippi valley and unfavorable weather generally for the new crop. But that so very large a tusiness should have been done, and, considering the scale of prices current. that the advance should have been so slight, show the distrust with which the advices have been received, and how freely the demand was supplied. These facts also, in a great measure, explain the reaction which has taken place this week. Both spinners and speculators seem to have come to the conclusion that the advance was perhaps a little premature, and this impression has since been strengthened by rather more favorable crop reports from America. In fact, the opinion seems to have gained ground that the waters on the overflowed dis-tricts of Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas may subside in time to admit of a moderate, if not an average crop, being raised this season. Moreover, by many It is supposed these overflows, recent advance in prices both here and in New York, will stimulate planters in the uplands to put more fand in cotton than they other rise would have done; in other would, that these drawbacks to the prospects of the new crop have come at too early a period in the season to preclude the possibility of a large crop. In evidence of this, reference is made to similar overflows in the spring of 1859, and to the fact that the crop of 1859-60 was a very large one. On the other hand, it is contended that even if the waters in the overflowed dis-tricts should subside in time to admit of anything like an average planting under the old system of labor in the southern States, this would now be impossible be-cause of the dispersion of the negroes, and the financial embarrassment of both planters and merchan's generally. The supply of American cotion in and affoat for this port is now estimated at 107,620 bales more than at this date last year; but taking into account the present defi-cit in the stocks at the American ports, the probable decrease in the receipts at the ports from this until the close of the season, as sompared with the same peri-od last year, and it becomes apparent our supply will, from this until the in-
